

Revision 1.1.1: What is Literacy Revised gis 140 / sec. D / early fall quarter 2006-07 / chang

Consider what you have already written in your in-class response paper “1.1 What is Literacy?” In light of our class discussion and the readings assigned for this sequence, think critically on your own definition and experience with literacy. For this revision, start by typing up your response paper paying attention to your train of thought, your overall organization of ideas, and your main details. Develop and extend what you have written to more formally, more specifically, and more analytically answer the question: what is literacy?

Turn in: 1 page, single spaced, typed
